DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of the word "invention" in line 1. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 1, the grammar is awkward in lines 11-26 especially.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by either Gorog 4,947,028, Roach et al 5,434,394 or Hartman et al 5,960,411.

The three references set forth above all teach automated methods for ordering products online through a salesclerks terminal or POS terminal and wherein the purchaser selects items from a display and transmits an order and a customer ID, and further wherein several authentication and identification information elements are generated and transmitted between the order receiving system and the shop ordering system to effect the transaction. It is noted that the claims do not appear to recite the "simultaneous" transmission of the order to both the order reception system and the shop order system, as discussed in the specification.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the cited art disclosing different methods and systems for automated product ordering.
